Appl. No. 10/816,392*Amendments to the Specification*

1. Please replace paragraph [0029] with the following paragraph [0029]:

[0029] Browser Settings 408 comprise a home page text box 418 and a share your location check-box 420. Home page text box 418 allows a user to enter the browser home page the user would like to be activated when a particular location profile is activated. For example, while at work the user may want the organization's intranet home page to be displayed, and while at home the user may prefer a different home page, such as, for example, <http://www=google=com> (It should be noted that periods have been replaced with equal signs in URLs within this document to avoid inadvertent hyperlinks.) <http://www.google.com>. Share your location check-box 420 allows a user to share its location with web sites the user visits to enable web content to be tailored or more relevant to the user's location. When check-box 420 is checked, the name of the currently selected location profile and the Universal Location Framework (ULF) determined location fix (latitude, longitude, and altitude) are reported in the HTTP header of requests sent to web sites. Web server applications may extract this information to tailor their display to provide information that is more relevant to the user's location. If the user desires not to provide their location and keep it private, check-box 420 is left unchecked.
